Moelis Appoints Greg Gordon as a Senior Advisor in Power and Utilities

New York, January 24, 2025 – Moelis & Company (NYSE: MC), a leading global independent investment bank, today announced the appointment of Greg Gordon as a Senior Advisor. In this role, Greg will provide strategic advice to clients in the power and utilities sectors, further enhancing the Firm's expertise in this critical market. He will be based in New York.

With over 30 years of experience, 26 of which were spent as a securities analyst covering U.S. utility and power companies, Greg brings deep insight into the sector and its investor landscape. Previously, he served as Principal and Head of North America Utility Strategy at Zimmer Partners, a multi-billion-dollar hedge fund focused on equity investments in utilities and energy infrastructure. Prior to that, Greg was a Senior Managing Director and Head of Power and Utilities Research at Evercore ISI. He has also held senior roles at Morgan Stanley, Citigroup, and Goldman Sachs.

Greg will work closely with Moelis's global Power and Utilities group to support clients navigating the opportunities and challenges presented by rising electricity demand, infrastructure modernization, and evolving market dynamics.

John Colella, Managing Director and Head of U.S. Power and Utilities at Moelis commented, "Greg's appointment underscores our dedication to supporting clients in the power and utilities industry, which is facing unprecedented change. As the sector continues to transform, his strategic insights and understanding of the market will complement the strengths of our existing team and add significant value to our clients."
