Moelis Expands its Global Industrials Franchise with Appointment of Andrew Nicholls as a Managing Director

London, October 20, 2025 – Moelis & Company (NYSE: MC), a leading global independent investment bank, today announced that it has appointed Andrew Nicholls as a Managing Director in London. Andrew will provide strategic and financial advice to clients within the Industrials sector across EMEA, with a focus on metals and mining.

Andrew brings extensive expertise in the sector, having spent more than two decades advising clients in EMEA and APAC across a range of transactions, including M&A, capital raisings and restructurings. He joins Moelis from HSBC where he was Head of EMEA Metals, Mining & Transition Materials.

During his time at HSBC, Andrew focused on expanding its M&A and financing capabilities, particularly in the Middle East and Africa. Prior to that, Andrew spent nearly a decade at Credit Suisse, most recently serving as the firm's Head of EMEA Metals & Mining Investment Banking.

Yorick van Slingelandt, Head of EMEA & APAC at Moelis, commented, "Andrew has a proven track record of advising clients globally, and brings a deep knowledge of commodities and nuanced jurisdictional frameworks. His hire underpins the Firm's continued momentum in Industrials and expands our ability to serve our global clients."

Douglas Pierson, Managing Director, who leads the global Metals & Mining effort at Moelis, added, "Andrew's hire reflects Moelis's ongoing commitment to bringing broad and diversified expertise to metals and mining clients around the world as they navigate rapidly evolving supply chain dynamics. His extensive experience will further strengthen our ability to help clients optimize their capital structures and seize growth opportunities in this complex landscape. We are excited to continue the firm's momentum in this space and look forward to welcoming Andrew."
