MDU Resources Announces Board Leadership Transition with New Chair of the Board

2025-05-15

BISMARCK, N.D., May 15, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- MDU Resources Group, Inc. (NYSE: MDU) today announced that its board of directors has elected Darrel T. Anderson as its new independent chair of the board, succeeding Dennis W. Johnson, effective immediately. Johnson will remain on the board as a director and will continue to serve as chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee.

"This transition is a testament to our board's disciplined approach to board leadership succession. Darrel's election as chair follows a deliberate process that ensures continuity and strong governance. He is well prepared and very qualified to lead the board," said Johnson.

Nicole Kivisto, president and CEO of MDU Resources, added, "We are grateful for Dennis' leadership, particularly through the company's transformation to a pure-play regulated energy delivery business, and we deeply appreciate his continued service on the board. We congratulate Darrel and look forward to his leadership in this next chapter."

Leadership refreshment and succession planning are key focuses for the board. Anderson's election to board chair reflects a structured governance approach that emphasizes continuity and leadership development. Anderson joined the board in 2023, and previously served as board vice chair and chair of the Compensation and Human Capital Committee. His steady progression within the board demonstrates MDU Resources' commitment to thoughtful succession planning and best-in-class governance.

Anderson brings decades of industry experience, including his tenure as president and CEO of IDACORP, Inc. and Idaho Power Company. His deep understanding of regulated energy businesses and corporate governance will be valuable to the board as MDU Resources continues executing its strategic priorities.
