

NEWS RELEASE

ADI Wins 13 CE Pro Brand Leader Awards and Named Best Distributor

2026-05-28

Recognition from the CE Pro 100 underscores ADI's leadership across distribution, automation, networking and infrastructure, with its portfolio of exclusive brands topping multiple categories.

ADI, the industry leading distributor and provider of security, AV, and smarter living solutions, is the recipient of thirteen 2026 CE Pro Brand Leader Awards, reinforcing its position as a premier solutions provider trusted by the industry's largest residential installers.

The annual CE Pro Brand Leader Awards are based on insights from the CE Pro 100 — a ranking of the highest-grossing custom integrators in North America — and reflect the brands that integrators rely on most across core product categories.

ADI was named Best Distributor, while its exclusive brands were recognized across a broad range of technologies spanning automation, networking, surveillance, infrastructure and power management.

Control4 led the results with wins in Whole-House Automation, Multiroom AV Distribution, Phone Systems/Intercoms, Universal Remote Controls and HVAC/Thermostat. Across the wider portfolio, Araknis Networks was recognized in Home Networks, Binary in HDMI Cables, Luma in IP Cameras/Surveillance, OvrC in Remote Systems Management, Strong in Mounts, WattBox in Power Conditioners and Wirepath in Structured Wiring Enclosures.

"These awards are especially meaningful because they are based on direct feedback from the industry's leading integrators," said Allie Copeland, SVP & Chief Operating Officer at ADI. "The CE Pro 100 represents the most successful and forward-looking businesses in the channel, and their recognition reflects the strength of our portfolio and the role our brands play in supporting their growth. As integrators continue to evolve their businesses, we remain focused on delivering the solutions, services and support that help them operate more efficiently and build long-term value.”

The recognition highlights ADI’s continued investment in its portfolio of exclusive brands, designed to work together as a unified ecosystem that supports end-to-end system design, deployment, and long-term management. From Control4 automation and Araknis networking to Luma surveillance, OvrC remote management and WattBox power, ADI enables integrators to deliver complete, interoperable solutions across residential and commercial projects.

The CE Pro Brand Leader Awards are published annually by CE Pro and are widely regarded as a benchmark of brand preference within the custom integration industry.