Report of Organizational Actions Affecting Basis of Securities

REVISED STATEMENT RELATED TO MARCH 2026 PREFERRED REDEMPTION
ORIGINAL FORM POSTED ON APRIL 17, 2026

GMR Solutions Inc. (the “Company”) is providing the information contained herein pursuant to the requirements of section 6045B of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). The discussion herein includes a general summary regarding the application of certain U.S. federal income tax laws and regulations to the equity exchanges described below and the potential effects on an equity holder’s adjusted U.S. tax basis resulting from such transactions.

The information contained herein does not constitute tax advice and does not purport to be complete or to describe the consequences that may apply to particular categories of holders of Series B preferred stock. Holders of Series B preferred stock are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the particular U.S. tax consequences of the transactions described herein and the impact to tax basis resulting from such transactions.

Unless otherwise specified herein, “Section” references are to the Code or Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder, each in effect as of the date hereof.

Part I:

Line 9. Classification and description.

- 189,050 shares of Series B preferred stock and stapled warrants which entitle the Holders to purchase 4,662,252 shares of common stock. The Series B preferred stock had a total aggregate principal amount of approximately $249,995,258 (the “Preferred Equity”). The Series B preferred stock and stapled warrants have been treated as a single instrument for U.S. federal income tax purposes (the “Stapled Instrument” and the holders thereof, the “Stapled Instrument Holders”).
- The 4,662,252 warrants were exchanged for the following:
 - 577,714 warrants exercisable for shares of Company common stock with an exercise price of $0.01 per share (the “Voting Warrants”).
 - 4,084,538 warrants exercisable for shares of Company Class B common stock valued at $0.01 per share (the “Non-Voting Warrants” and, collectively with the Voting Warrants, the “New Warrants”).

Part II:

Line 14. Describe the organizational action and, if applicable, the date of the action or the date against which shareholders’ ownership is measured for the action.

On or about March 6, 2026, the Company consummated the following transaction (the “Exchange”) with the Stapled Instrument Holders:

- Preferred Equity
 - 189,050 shares of Preferred Equity with an aggregate principal amount of approximately $249,995,258 along with 4,662,252 stapled warrants were exchanged for approximately $249,995,258 cash, 577,714 unstapled Voting Warrants, and 4,084,538 unstapled Non-Voting Warrants.

Line 15. Describe the quantitative effect of the organizational action on the basis of the security in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis.

Under U.S. federal income tax law, the Exchange is expected to result in an equity-for-cash and equity exchange, in a recapitalization reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a)(1)(E).

With respect to the Exchange, under Section 356(a), gain (but not loss) may be recognized by the Stapled Instrument Holders, but not in excess of the amount of cash received. Given the original stapled warrants' exercise price of $0.01 or less and the New Warrants' exercise price of $0.01, these warrants were significantly in the money (the holder being able to pay a strike price of one cent to obtain common stock worth significantly in excess of that amount) when issued and at the time of the Exchange, the warrants are assumed to be properly treated in substance as stock under Revenue Ruling 82-150, 1982-2 C.B. 110. Thus, in the Exchange, the Stapled Instrument Holders surrendered their Stapled Instruments (comprised of the Preferred Equity and the associated warrants), and they received cash and the New Warrants in exchange. The Company believes, and the remainder of this discussion assumes, that the Exchange constituted a recapitalization, and thus a reorganization, within the meaning of Section 368(a)(1)(E). Under Section 356(a), the Stapled Instrument Holders are expected to recognize gain (but not loss) on their Stapled Instruments, based on the difference between (a) the sum of the amount of cash and the aggregate fair market value of the New Warrants they receive (or are deemed to receive on account of the un-stapling), and (b) their aggregate basis in their Stapled Instruments, with any such gain recognized not to exceed the amount of cash received. The Stapled Instrument Holders' bases in the New Warrants received in the Exchange are expected to equal (i) the basis in their Stapled Instrument surrendered in the Exchange, (ii) reduced by the amount of cash received, and (iii) increased by the amount of gain recognized, under Section 358(a)(1). The Stapled Instrument Holders' gain, if any, with respect to the Stapled Instruments is not expected to have the effect of a distribution of a dividend under Section 302(b).

Stapled Instrument Holders participating in the Exchange should consult their tax advisors to determine the U.S. federal income tax consequences to them of the Exchange.

Line 16. Describe the calculation of the change in basis and the data that supports the calculation, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates.

See response to Line 15 above.

The Stapled Instrument Holders bases in the New Warrants is expected to equal (i) the basis in their Stapled Instrument surrendered in the Exchange, (ii) reduced by the amount of cash received, and (iii) increased by the amount of gain recognized, under Section 358(a)(1).

Line 17. List the applicable Internal Revenue Code section(s) and subsection(s) upon which the tax treatment is based.

Sections 354, 356, 358, 368, 1001, and 1012.

Line 18. Can any resulting loss be recognized?

The Exchange generally should not result in loss being recognized by the Stapled Instrument Holders to the extent the Exchange is a Section 368(a)(1)(E) recapitalization.

Line 19. Provide any other information necessary to implement the adjustment, such as the reportable tax year.

The organizational actions occurred on March 6, 2026. The reportable tax year is 2026 for calendar-year taxpayers.
