Safe Harbor Statement and Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Certain statements made in this presentation should be considered forward-looking as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements give expectations or forecasts of future events. These statements are related to our intentions, beliefs, projections, estimations or forecasts of future events or our future financial performance and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results to be materially different from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. These statements can be identified by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. They use words such as “anticipate,” “estimate,” “expect,” “project,” “intend,” “plan,” “believe” and other words and terms of similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operating or financial performance. We caution investors that these forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, and actual results may differ materially. Investors should consider the important risks and uncertainties that may cause such differences, including those risks discussed in our most recent Form 10-K and Form 10-Q filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Our forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this presentation or as of the date they were made, and we undertake no obligation to update those statements.

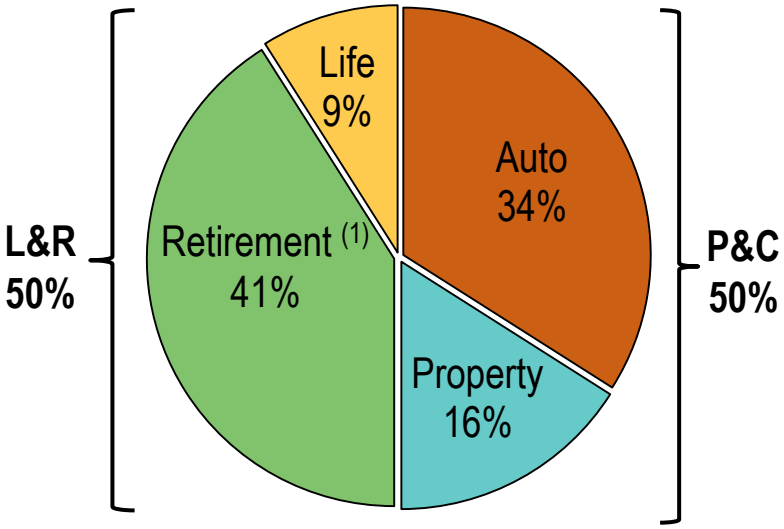

The historical and forward-looking financial information contained in this presentation includes financial measures which are based on methodologies other than Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“GAAP”) such as operating income, operating earnings per share, pre-tax reporting segment income excluding DAC/VIF unlocking and book value per share excluding some components of accumulated other comprehensive income. A reconciliation of non-GAAP measures to the closest GAAP measures is available in our earnings release.

Why this niche market?

Educators have an attractive risk profile

How they live:
Conservative and loyal

- Buy higher insurance limits
- Tend to bundle auto and home insurance
- Loyalty results in strong retention

Where they work:
Close to home

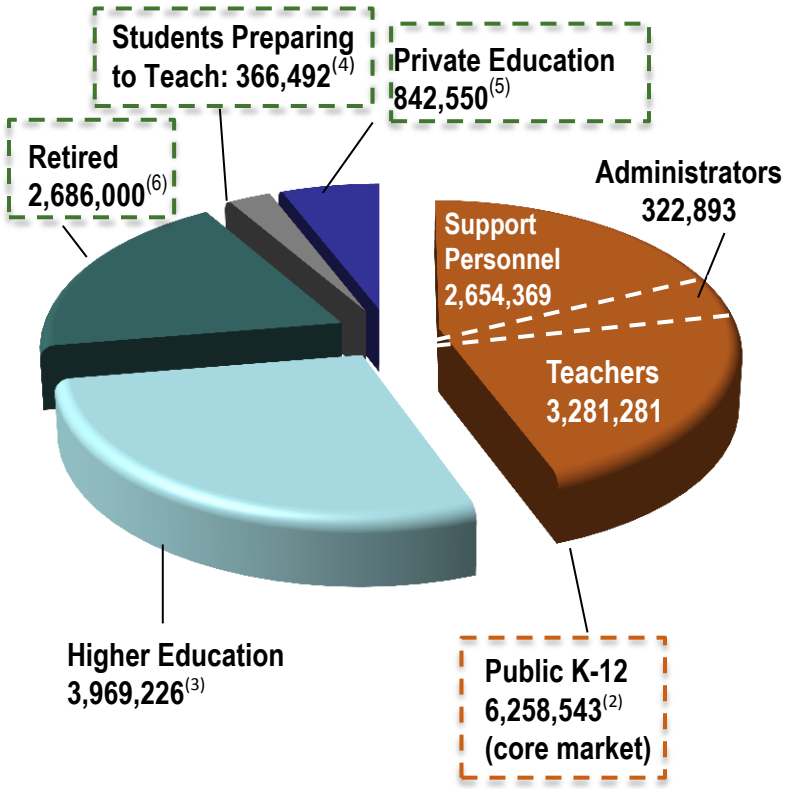

- Generally live close to school with very short commutes
- Off-hour commutes without heavy traffic
- Tend to be off work in bad weather

How they save:
Financially responsible

- Focused on achieving financial goals
- Desire for guidance and education
- Open to reallocating household savings to retirement needs

Sizable opportunity with new and existing educators

- The Public K-12 education market includes more than 6.1 million individuals
- Number of teachers projected to grow by 10% between 2011 to 2023(1)
- Current customer base of ~360,000 educator households
- Opportunities exist to attract new customers and deepen cross-sell efforts
  - Industry leading cross-line penetration (11% for the industry/19% for Horace Mann)
- Sizable demographic shift as Baby Boomers retire and Millennials make up a higher percentage of the workforce
  - Strong retention and persistency ratios with Baby Boomers
  - Additional opportunity for growth with Millennials
