

BlueLinx Expands LP® SmartSide® Trim & Siding Offering Across Key U.S. Markets

2026-09-29

- BlueLinx is expanding its relationship with LP Building Solutions to distribute LP® SmartSide® products in 20 key housing markets located in the Pacific Northwest, South Central and Southeast regions of the United States
- Customers in new and existing LP SmartSide markets will have access to the complete portfolio, including ExpertFinish® Trim & Siding and Naturals Collection™ products
- The expansion advances BlueLinx's specialty products growth strategy with the industry's leading engineered wood siding brands

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- BlueLinx Holdings Inc. (NYSE: BXC), a leading U.S. wholesale distributor of building products, today announced an expanded partnership with LP Building Solutions that broadens the company's LP® SmartSide® Trim & Siding offering across key U.S. markets expected to benefit from favorable demographic growth trends. As part of LP's new national distribution strategy, BlueLinx will now offer the complete LP SmartSide portfolio throughout its established service territory.

Building on its existing relationship with LP Building Solutions, BlueLinx is strengthening its role in LP's new national distribution strategy while expanding customer access to LP SmartSide products across key U.S. markets. The expanded partnership advances BlueLinx's specialty products growth strategy and reinforces the company's position as a preferred distribution partner for leading specialty building products manufacturers.

The expanded LP SmartSide offering adds new stocking locations in Charleston, SC, Lake City, FL, and Dallas-Fort Worth, El Paso, Harlingen, Houston, Lubbock, and San Antonio, TX. Customers in both new and existing LP SmartSide markets will gain access to the complete LP SmartSide portfolio, including ExpertFinish® Trim & Siding, Naturals Collection™ colors, trim, soffit, shakes and panels.

"Expanding our relationship with LP Building Solutions strengthens our siding portfolio and further advances our specialty products growth strategy," said Shyam Reddy, President and Chief Executive Officer of BlueLinx. "By adding new stocking locations and increasing customer access to the complete LP SmartSide portfolio, we are enhancing our value proposition, strengthening our partnership with a category-leading manufacturer and supporting our strategy of driving profitable specialty products growth.”

LP SmartSide products combine the beauty of traditional wood with the durability of engineered wood and are treated through LP's proprietary SmartGuard® manufacturing process to help resist moisture, fungal decay and termites. The portfolio offers a broad range of styles, textures, profiles and finishes, including ExpertFinish® and Naturals Collection™ colors.

“BlueLinX shares our commitment to exceptional customer service and market development,” said Craig Sichling, Chief Commercial Officer of LP Building Solutions. “By expanding its LP SmartSide offering, BlueLinX will make it easier for customers throughout its service territory to access the products they want, supported by knowledgeable sales professionals and proven logistics capabilities.”

The expanded LP SmartSide offering further advances BlueLinX's specialty products growth strategy by increasing access to a category-leading siding solution through the company's distribution platform, supply chain expertise and value-added services. The partnership strengthens the value BlueLinX delivers to customers through broader product availability, knowledgeable sales support and dependable delivery performance, while enhancing its position as a preferred distribution partner for leading building products manufacturers.
