37 Million AARP Members Now Eligible for Special Offer on Norton™ AntiVirus Plus and Norton™ 360 Standard, Deluxe and Premium

TEMPE, Ariz.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- To help bring leading Cyber Safety protection to millions of AARP members looking for solutions to better safeguard their devices and online privacy, NortonLifeLock (NASDAQ: NLOK), a global leader in consumer Cyber Safety, today announced AARP members can now subscribe to Norton AntiVirus Plus and Norton 360 Standard, Deluxe and Premium at special rates.

“We’re proud to make Cyber Safety protection accessible for AARP members and help them stay safe in an increasingly complex digital landscape,” said Samir Kapuria, President, NortonLifeLock. “As our lives have gone progressively digital – from more financial transactions online to virtual social engagement with family on video calls to telehealth appointments – cyber criminals have evolved their tactics to dupe and attack consumers who are new to this technology-first way of life. We believe it is essential for everyone to have access to the proper tools to help protect their devices and personal information, and we want to help this community get ahead of the risks.”

It comes as little surprise that 91% of U.S. adults 55-73 want to do more to protect their privacy. According to the 2019 NortonLifeLock Cyber Safety Insights Report, a survey conducted by NortonLifeLock in partnership with The Harris Poll, half of U.S. adults 55-73 (50%) have ever experienced cyber crime, with nearly 1 in 4 (23%) having done so in the last year alone.

“By making these NortonLifeLock products available, we hope to build on AARP’s education efforts around helping people 50+ to fight fraud and scams. As cyber crime continues to inundate consumers’ digital lives, now members have access to discounted cyber safety tools with multiple layers of protection to help keep their devices protected,” said Angela Jones, SVP Lifestyle, Caregiving and Emerging Business, AARP Services, Inc.
