Zevia Recognized as a Best Place to Work by Comparably, Winning Four Awards Including Best CEO for Diversity

Out of 60,000 companies, leading beverage brand also awarded Best Companies for Professional Development, Best Leadership and Best CEO for Women

Los Angeles, Calif. – July 24, 2020 – Zevia is a brand best known for its zero sugar, zero calorie beverages. This year, the company has even more to celebrate, with its recent recognition by Comparably as a Best Place to Work. Among small to mid-size companies, Zevia received four Comparably Awards, including Best Companies for Professional Development, Best Leadership, Best CEO for Diversity and Best CEO for Women.

Comparably's annual Best Places to Work Awards aim to make work transparent and rewarding for employees and employers by recognizing the best leaders and businesses making a positive impact. The awards are determined based on anonymous survey responses from employees across 60,000 businesses in the United States.

"We are incredibly proud to be recognized by Comparably as a best-in-class company across a range of categories," said Paddy Spence, Zevia CEO. "Zevia is passionate about our mission to improve the health of our communities through zero calorie, naturally sweetened beverages. We are equally passionate about creating career opportunities for all Zevia team members and creating a culture of inclusion, especially for historically underrepresented communities."

Spence began as the CEO of Zevia in 2010 with a goal to create a healthier, happier world by reducing sugar consumption through offering delicious beverage alternatives. Over the past decade, Zevia has grown from four to more than 90 employees who are fiercely passionate, talented and determined to change the beverage game. Zevia began by disrupting the Soda category, with a line of 14 flavors, and in recent years has continued to innovate in response to consumer needs, adding Energy, Organic Teas, Mixers, and most recently Zevia Kidz beverages.

Being a leader who creates an innovative and inclusive work setting that makes employees happy to come to work is one of Spence's proudest achievements. "The Best Leadership Teams is a list of companies that have the most effective combination of executives and senior managers in business, as voted on by employees," said Comparably CEO Jason Nazar. "These leaders collectively inspire their teams to do their best work, while creating a positive environment that delivers results."

Zevia is currently hiring for a range of full-time positions. Those with an entrepreneurial spirit and passion for creating healthier communities are encouraged to check out career opportunities at Zevia.com/careers.

About Zevia

Zevia's mission is to improve global public health by helping people reduce their sugar consumption. The company offers a broad portfolio of zero sugar, zero calorie, naturally sweetened beverages that are refreshing and delicious, made with a handful of simple, plant-based ingredients.
