JBT Corporation Announces Award of Fruit Juice Processing Project

CHICAGO, Dec. 3, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- JBT Corporation (NYSE: JBT) announced today that its JBT FoodTech business signed a contract in excess of $4 million for a new fruit processing project with Almacenes de Jugos de Citricos de Mexico, SAPI de CV. Almacenes de Jugos is made up by a conglomeration of many growers together with venture capitalists and a new entrant into the Mexican fruit processing industry.

JBT FoodTech will supply and integrate a turn-key fruit processing solution into a new Papantla, Veracruz, Mexico-based facility. This new plant, set to produce orange and other fruit juices, is projected to have a significant economic and social impact in the State of Veracruz.

"We are very pleased with Almacenes de Jugos' confidence expressed in JBT's leading fruit processing technologies," said Steve Smith, Vice President and General Manager for JBT FoodTech's Food Processing Systems Division. "This project is an excellent example of JBT's long-term support of the expansion of Mexico's fruit and juice industry."

The project is currently scheduled to be operational in the second quarter of 2013.
