CHICAGO, May 7, 2010 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ --JBT Corporation (NYSE: JBT) announced today that its JBT FoodTech business has signed contracts valued at $5.4 million to supply freezing solutions for two Germany-based food processing plants. The contracts are with OSI Food Solutions GmbH, a German subsidiary of the Chicago-based OSI Group. The OSI Group is a global leader in providing quality food products to many of the world's leading food companies and quick service restaurants.

JBT FoodTech will supply one OSI plant with a higher capacity, lower operating cost hamburger patty freezing line to replace cryogenic freezing lines. At another OSI plant, a new freezer system was designed for freezing poultry products and providing higher throughput and operating availability than existing equipment. Both new freezing solutions will utilize JBT FoodTech's unique high performance, energy efficient FRIGoPAK® refrigeration system.

"We are very pleased with OSI's confidence in JBT's leading freezing technologies," said Torbjorn Arvidsson, Vice President and Division Manager for JBT FoodTech's Food Solutions and Services Division. "This project is an excellent example of how JBT FoodTech partners with global customers and supports the development of regional food industries."

The orders were received between March and April and both projects are scheduled for completion in the third quarter of 2010.
