OLYMPIC Brand by PPG Launches ONE Color Changing Ceiling Paint

04/29/2015

New easy-view ceiling paint goes on pink, dries white

CRANBERRY TOWNSHIP, Pa.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Apr. 29, 2015-- Do-it-yourself painting projects just got a little simpler with OLYMPIC® Paint and Stain brand's new Olympic ONE® color changing ceiling paint and primer in one. The paint goes on pink and dries white, enabling homeowners to easily see which areas of their ceilings are covered and reduce the chance of unintentionally missing a spot.

Available exclusively at Lowe's, the new addition to the Olympic ONE product portfolio makes application easy with excellent hide that is low-splatter, quick to dry and backed by a lifetime warranty, according to Lia Gancas, senior manager, Olympic brand. Olympic ONE color changing ceiling paint leaves ceilings with a uniform, flat finish for beautiful results.

"Painting a ceiling can often be a challenging process. It requires the use of different painting techniques than those techniques used to paint other walls in a room," said Gancas. "The ceiling is the fifth wall in any room and should look just as great as the walls in plain eyesight. With Olympic ONE color changing ceiling paint, homeowners will have beautiful results and be less likely to ever miss a spot again."
