Zillow Group Reports Fourth-Quarter and Full-Year 2024 Financial Results

SEATTLE, Feb. 11, 2025 — Zillow Group, Inc. (NASDAQ: Z and ZG), which is transforming the way people buy, sell, rent and finance homes, today announced its consolidated financial results for the three months and year ended December 31, 2024.

Complete financial results, and outlook for the first quarter of 2025, can be found in our shareholder letter on the Investor Relations section of Zillow Group’s website at <https://investors.zillowgroup.com/investors/financials/quarterly-results/default.aspx>.

“2024 was a remarkable year for Zillow: We achieved our stated goals for the year — including double-digit revenue growth — and we expect to keep up our momentum in 2025,” said Zillow Chief Executive Officer Jeremy Wacksman. “The results we reported today demonstrate how well we are executing and seizing our opportunity to transform and digitize residential real estate. With the leading brand in our category and a solid foundation for continued growth, we’re excited to serve more buyers, sellers, renters, and real estate professionals this year.”

Recent highlights include:

- Zillow Group’s fourth-quarter results exceeded the company’s outlook for revenue and Adjusted EBITDA.
- Q4 revenue was up 17% year over year to $554 million, above the midpoint of the company’s outlook range by $21 million. Q4 revenue outperformed the residential real estate industry’s year-over-year total transaction value growth of 13% according to NAR¹ and 15% according to industry data tracked and estimated by Zillow.² Full-year 2024 revenue of $2.2 billion was up 15% year over year.
 - For Sale revenue was up 15% year over year to $428 million in Q4.
 - Residential revenue was up 11% year over year in Q4 to $387 million, benefiting primarily from continued conversion improvements and Zillow Showcase expansion.
 - Mortgages revenue increased 86% year over year to $41 million in Q4, due primarily to a 90% increase in purchase loan origination volume to $923 million.
 - Rentals revenue increased 25% year over year to $116 million in Q4, primarily driven by multifamily revenue growing 41% year over year.
- On a GAAP basis, net loss was $52 million and net loss margin was 9% in Q4 2024, compared with net loss of $73 million and net loss margin of 15% in Q4 2023. GAAP net loss was $112 million for the full year 2024 and net loss margin was 5%, a 300 basis point improvement from 8% net loss margin in 2023.
- Q4 Adjusted EBITDA was $112 million, or 20% of revenue, driven primarily by higher-than-expected Residential revenue and strong Rentals revenue. Adjusted EBITDA for the full year 2024 was $498 million and Adjusted EBITDA margin was 22%, up 200 basis points from 20% Adjusted EBITDA margin in 2023.
- Cash and investments at the end of Q4 were $1.9 billion, down from $2.2 billion at the end of Q3, primarily due to the settlement of the company’s 2026 convertible debt in December.
- Traffic to Zillow Group’s mobile apps and sites in Q4 was up 3% year over year to 204 million average monthly unique users. Visits during Q4 were up 3% year over year to 2.1 billion.

² Calculated as the number of existing residential homes sold during Q4 2024 multiplied by the average sales price of existing residential homes sold for Q4 2024 according to industry data collected and estimated by Zillow, as published monthly on our site

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that involve risks and uncertainties, including, without limitation, statements regarding the future performance and operation of our business, and our business strategies and ability to translate such strategies into financial performance. Statements containing words such as “may,” “believe,” “anticipate,” “expect,” “intend,” “plan,” “project,” “predict,” “will,” “projections,” “continue,” “estimate,” “outlook,” “guidance,” “would,” “could,” “strive,” or similar expressions constitute forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are made based on assumptions as of February 11, 2025, and although we believe the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee these results. Differences in Zillow Group's actual results from those described in these forward-looking statements may result from actions taken by Zillow Group as well as from risks and uncertainties beyond Zillow Group's control.

Factors that may contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to: the health and stability of the economy and United States residential real estate industry, including changes in inflationary conditions, interest rates, housing availability and affordability, labor shortages and supply chain issues; our ability to manage advertising and product inventory and pricing and maintain relationships with our real estate partners; our ability to establish or maintain relationships with listing and data providers, which affects traffic to our mobile applications and websites; our ability to comply with current and future rules and requirements promulgated by the National Association of REALTORS®, multiple listing services, or other real estate industry groups or governing bodies, or decisions to repeal, amend, or not enforce such rules and requirements; our ability to navigate industry changes, including as a result of past, pending or future class-action lawsuits, settlements or government investigations, which may include lawsuits, settlements or investigations in which we are not a named party, such as the National Association of REALTORS® settlement agreement entered into on March 15, 2024; uncertainties related to changes resulting from the November 2024 elections in the United States; our ability to continue to innovate and compete to attract customers and real estate partners; our ability to effectively invest resources to pursue new strategies, develop new products and services and expand existing products and services into new markets; our ability to operate and grow Zillow Home Loans' mortgage operations, including the ability to obtain or maintain sufficient financing to fund the origination of mortgages, meet customers' financing needs with product offerings, continue to grow origination operations and resell originated mortgages on the secondary market; the duration and impact of natural disasters, climate change, geopolitical events, and other catastrophic events (including public health crises) on our ability to operate, demand for our products or services, or general economic conditions; our targets and disclosures related to environmental, social, and governance matters; our ability to maintain adequate security controls or technology systems, or those of third parties on which we rely, to protect data integrity and the information and privacy of our customers and other third parties; our ability to navigate any significant disruption in service on our mobile applications or websites or in our network; the impact of past, pending or future litigation and other disputes or enforcement actions, which may include lawsuits or investigations to which we are not a party; our ability to attract, engage, and retain a highly skilled workforce; acquisitions, investments, strategic partnerships, capital-raising activities, or other corporate transactions or commitments by us or our competitors; our ability to continue relying on third-party services to support critical functions of our business; our ability to protect and continue using our intellectual property and prevent others from copying, infringing upon, or developing similar intellectual property, including as a result of generative artificial intelligence; our ability to comply with domestic and international laws, regulations, rules, contractual obligations, policies and other obligations, or to obtain or maintain required licenses to support our business and operations; our ability to pay our debt, settle conversions of our convertible senior notes, or repurchase our convertible senior notes upon a fundamental change; our ability to raise additional capital or refinance our indebtedness on acceptable terms, or at all; actual or anticipated fluctuations in quarterly and annual results of operations and financial position; actual or perceived inaccuracies in the assumptions, estimates and internal or third-party data that we use to calculate business, performance and operating metrics; and volatility of our Class A common stock and Class C capital stock prices.

The foregoing list of risks and uncertainties is illustrative but not exhaustive. For more information about potential factors that could affect Zillow Group's business and financial results, please review the "Risk Factors" described in Zillow Group's publicly available filings with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Except as may be required by law, Zillow Group does not intend and undertakes no duty to update this information to reflect future events or circumstances.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To provide investors with additional information regarding our financial results, this press release includes references to Adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure. We have provided a reconciliation below of Adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure. We have not provided a quantitative reconciliation of forecasted GAAP net income (loss) to forecasted Adjusted EBITDA within this press release because we are unable, without making unreasonable efforts, to calculate certain reconciling items with confidence. These items include but are not limited to: income taxes that are directly impacted by unpredictable fluctuations in the market price of the company's capital stock; depreciation and amortization from new acquisitions; impairments of assets; gains or losses on extinguishment of debt; and acquisition-related costs. These items, which could materially affect the computation of forward-looking GAAP net income (loss), are inherently uncertain and depend on various factors, many of which are outside of our control. We have not provided a reconciliation of forecasted Adjusted EBITDA margin to net income (loss) margin, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure, for the same reasons.

Adjusted EBITDA is a key metric used by our management and board of directors to measure operating performance and trends and to prepare and approve our annual budget. In particular, the exclusion of certain expenses in calculating Adjusted EBITDA facilitates operating performance comparisons on a period-to-period basis.

Our use of Adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider this measure in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not consider the potentially dilutive impact of share-based compensation;
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized may have to be replaced in the future, and Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect cash capital expenditure requirements for such replacements or for new capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect impairment and restructuring costs;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect acquisition-related costs;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect gain (loss) on extinguishment of debt;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect interest expense or other income, net;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect income taxes; and
- Other companies, including companies in our own industry, may calculate Adjusted EBITDA differently from the way we do, limiting its usefulness as a comparative measure.

Because of these limitations, you should consider Adjusted EBITDA alongside other financial performance measures, including various cash-flow metrics, net loss and our other GAAP results.
